Sparkman Condemns Taft's Attack On U.N.

Charges Taft 'Torpedoed' Truce Hopes

Washington (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said yesterday that Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) "may have torpedoed chances for a truce in Korea" with his speech in Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Taft, the Senate majority leader, suggested that "we might as well forget the United Nations as far as the Korean War is concerned."

He said he did not believe in the U. N. as an effective means to prevent aggression and that if a truce cannot be reached the United States should "let England and our other allies know that we are withdrawing from all further peace negotiations in Korea."

Sparkman said this is "a diametrical contradiction" of President Eisenhower's policy. Taft's speech, Sparkman told a reporter, "amounts to telling our allies, England, France, India and others, that 'we don't need you and don't want you.'"

Sparkman, the Democrats' vice presidential nominee last year, is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a former American delegate to the United Nations.

He protested that Taft's speech, read before the National Conference of Christians and Jews by his son, Robert A. Taft Jr., was badly timed, coming at a crucial point in the truce negotiations.

"I can't understand the very bad timing in this," Sparkman said.

"Communist Russia has been trying to drive a wedge between the United Nations Allies, and now Sen. Taft's speech appears to do it for them."

The U. N. has just made a new truce proposal to the Communists and is awaiting their answer.

While Taft was saying that "even the best truce under present conditions will be extremely unsatisfactory," Eisenhower issued a statement reaffirming American support of the U. N.-approved principles in the Korean truce talks.

The White House declined yesterday to comment on Taft's statement or to indicate whether it represented a serious difference of opinion between the President and his chief lieutenant in Congress.

While repercussions to the Taft speech developed, the Senate Appropriations Committee voted to bar any American contributions to the U. N. in the fiscal year starting July 1 if Red China becomes a member of the Security Council.

The ban was attached to the State Department appropriations bill. Senate and House have yet to act on the prohibition.

Poulson Upsets Mayor Bowron In Los Angeles

Los Angeles (AP)—Congressman Norris Poulson was Los Angeles mayor-designate today as his election victory snapped the record term of Fletcher Bowron, head man for 15 years.

Poulson, onetime Oregon farm boy, had a majority of 34,898 in the balloting which attracted 546,818 voters—a new high in a city election here.

Republican Poulson indicated he will resign shortly from the House of Representatives, where he has sat for 11 years. He takes over as mayor at $18,000 per annum on July 1. The office is nonpartisan.

Keating Proposes Voting Age Be Lowered To 18

Washington (AP)—Rep. Keating (R-NY), asserting he was following the lead of the Eisenhower administration, yesterday introduced a resolution to grant 18-year-olds the right to vote.

The Keating proposal to lower the legal voting age from 21 is in the form of a constitutional amendment, subject to ratification by three-fourths of the states.

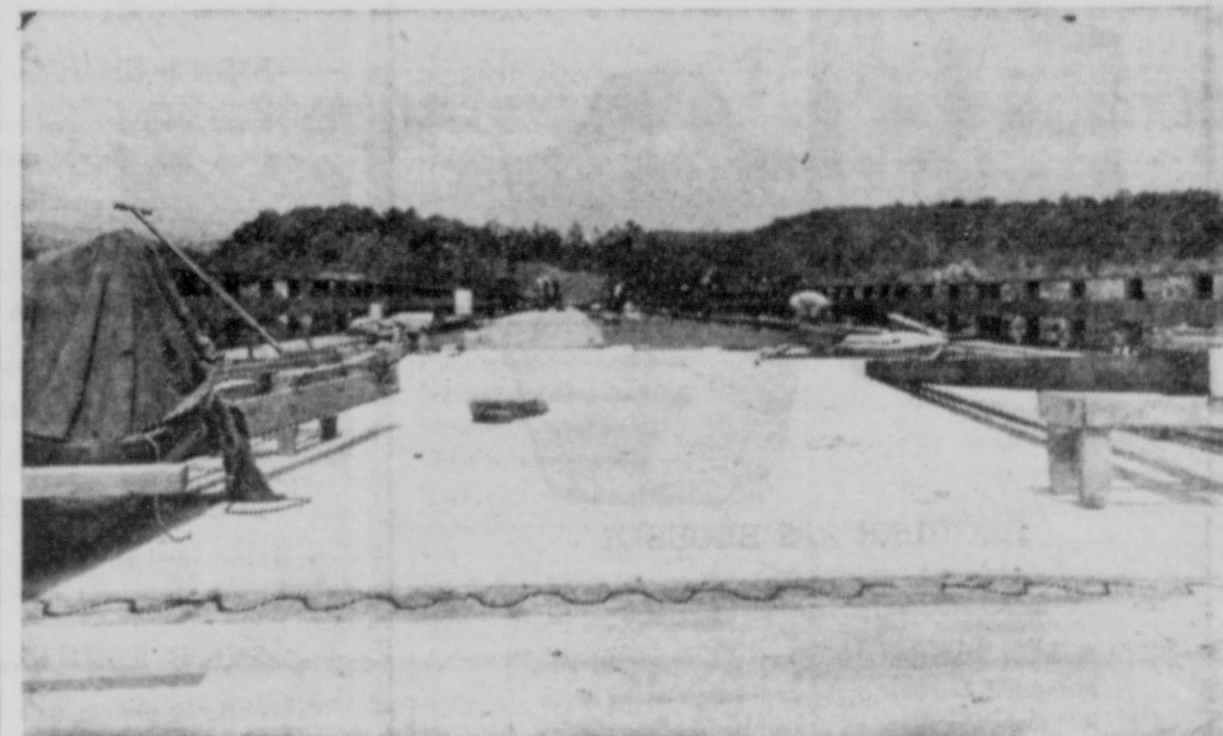

Keating said his action was prompted by the statement Monday of Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall that such legislation was favored both by President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon.

Locked In Battle

Seoul, Thursday, (AP)—An estimated 3,750 Red troops were locked in hard battle with U. N. infantrymen on the tense East-Central Korean War Front today.

South Korean Makes Final Bid To Modify Truce Plan

Seoul, Thursday, (AP)—The South Korean government, not consulted and balking angrily at secret terms of the U. N. Command's new truce plan, today makes a last ditch attempt to get it modified before its possible acceptance Monday by the Communists.

An official government source said South Korea will present its own ideas to the Allied Command at Munsan later today on how to solve the prisoner exchange deadlock. The problem involves about 34,000 North Koreans and 14,500 Chinese prisoners who refuse to return home after an armistice.

There will be a series of recommendations including a "very important letter" expressing the views of President Syngman Rhee's government. Details of the Korean proposal were not disclosed.

Stiffly observing protocol, the Korean member of the Allied truce delegation, Maj. Gen. Choi Duk Shin, was due to deliver his government's recommendations to Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., senior member, at Munsan.

The move subtly emphasized that while Britain, India and other countries were told in advance what the latest Allied truce plan would offer, South Korea was not consulted on the drafting of the plan although it was a member of the truce delegation.

President Rhee was advised of the terms only an hour before it was presented last Monday to the Communists. General Choi boycotted that meeting at Panmunjom.

In Washington U. S. State Department officials said the idea of a unified Korea would be pressed at a peace conference to follow any truce agreement.

The key thought, alike of the British constitutional monarchy and the republic of the United States of America, is the hatred of dictatorship," he said.

Falling Maypole Kills Youngster

Beaver, (AP)—Rose Mary Bedich, 7, a second grade pupil, was killed yesterday by a metal Maypole which broke and fell on her as she and two playmates swung from it during their school lunch hour at nearby West Bridgewater. The 10-foot pole snapped at its concrete-embedded base. The other children were not hurt.

Urges Local Services

Washington, (AP)—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby raised the question last night whether "purely local" welfare services might not be more economical "if more of the money to finance them were raised and spent at home."

U.S. Brands Spy Charges 'Fantastic'

Washington, (AP)—The State Department said yesterday that Russia's story of four American spies being parachuted into the Ukraine is "too fantastic to deserve comment."

"Another dismal example of the phony charges issued from time to time by the Communists in an effort to delude their own people," said Lincoln White, a State Department press officer, is brushing aside the Soviet communiqué.

The Russians had announced that four men had confessed that they jumped from an American airplane over the Ukraine, one of the Soviet republics, a month ago to carry on "diversionist, terrorist and espionage assignments." The announcement said the four were captured and executed by firing squads.

Meanwhile the State Department indicated that it would not tolerate any lingering here by Chrisache Zambelli, a Romanian diplomat accused of trying to blackmail a naturalized American into serving as a Communist spy.

Zambelli, declared "persona non grata," is expected to leave the country momentarily. If he stays longer, chances are that he will be prodded a bit, officials said.

Zambelli is first secretary of the Romanian Legation here. He is accused of trying to induce Valeriu Georgescu, a former Romanian and a petroleum engineer, to serve as a Communist agent to ensure the safety of his two teen-age sons who are still in Romania.

Approach To Bridge Being Laid

A major phase in construction of bridges across the Delaware River at Portland and Delaware Water Gap started this week with paving of the deck at Portland and laying concrete approach at Water Gap.

At Portland the Pennsylvania approach is about 75 per cent complete, and work on laying concrete paving on the steel bridge deck is under way.

First concrete for the approach at Delaware Water Gap was poured yesterday, and today another section, on Route 611, will be started.

The bridge at Portland is expected to be open by August 3, according to the latest report of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission.

No approach work has begun on the New Jersey side as yet, but that project is expected to begin shortly.

Groves Construction Co. has erected its own batching operation at Delaware and receives materials from Portland Sand and Gravel Co., which is playing a major role in the construction of both bridges.

The new road will by-pass the borough of Portland by connecting U. S. 611 southwest of the borough.

Three toll booths here will allow traffic to enter the bridge structure which passes over Pennsylvania Route 987, the road from Portland to Delaware.

Entrances and exits to this highway will be straddled by two other roads allowing Route 611 traffic to by-pass the bridge enroute to Delaware and Portland borough.

George M. Brewster and Son Co. has been engaged to construct the Pennsylvania approach at Delaware Water Gap and build the toll plaza and toll booth foundations. Miller Construction Co. of Lancaster is working on the approach to the plaza from Route 611 and will begin pouring concrete on a section about 246 feet long today. This stretch currently is being readied and traffic has been detoured only a short distance.

The extension of new road is expected to be ready for the Memorial Day influx of motorists. State highway officials were at the site yesterday inspecting plans.

The Miller firm has erected a batching operation at Water Gap and will pave their section. But Brewster workers are furnished ready-mixed concrete by Portland Sand and Gravel, which hauled truckloads to the site yesterday.

Russell Reimer, manager of Portland Sand and Gravel Co., said the company's fleet of 26 trucks has been augmented by nine others supplied by local construction companies to deliver materials to the bridges.

To date the piers across the river at Water Gap have used 17,000 cubic yards of concrete, and at Portland, 6,000 cubic yards have been used.

Reimer said the decks of both bridges will require about 5,000 cubic yards, and the stretch at the Gap bridge, for the approach, will need about 2,500 yards. The company employs 75 persons at its plants in Stroudsburg, Portland, Easton and Carpentersville, N. J.

Completion date for the Gap bridge was originally set for Oct. 19, according to the Toll Bridge Commission.

The Gap approach is 722 feet long on the Pennsylvania side, not including the long stretch from the plaza to the connecting Route 611.

The northern end of the bridge approach for a distance of 230 feet, provides for eight lanes of traffic, including seven booths. South of the booths the approach tapers to four lanes.

On the New Jersey side where the Groves Co. is working, completion date had been set for Sept. 1, according to the commission's report.

This approach, approximately 2,600 feet long, is composed of main highway extending from the New Jersey freeway to the bridge abutment. Provisions have been made for ramps for local traffic and a service road paralleling the river. An interchange also is being built south of Dunnfield Creek as part of the freeway.

Nears Showdown

Washington, (AP)—The public feud over a proposal to cut Air Force funds brought on a round of acid, high-level conferences yesterday as the fight moved toward the showdown stage.

Senate Okays Reorganizing Ag Department

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower's reorganization plan for the Agriculture Department won a Senate vote of confidence yesterday. A 46-29 roll call killed a resolution of disapproval offered by Sen. Russell (D-Ga.).

The 29 votes for the Russell resolution was 20 short of the number needed to reject the plan.

A Presidential reorganization plan can be blocked by either the Senate or the House, but only if at least 49 senators or 218 House members vote against it.

The House has not yet voted on the Agriculture Department plan. Unless it turns it down, the plan will go into effect on June 4.

Reynaud Loses Bid To Gain Premiership

Paris, Thursday, (AP)—Paul Reynaud, urging quick action to strengthen French governments, lost a dramatic bid early today for return to the premiership he held at the fall of France in 1940.

The National Assembly rejected Reynaud as successor to Radical Socialist Rene Mayer, whose Cabinet was ousted on a vote of confidence over a financial issue last Thursday.

The official tally showed the vote on Reynaud was 276-235, or 38 short of the required absolute majority.

Eighty-nine deputies abstained, many of them right-wingers who were dissatisfied with Reynaud's demands for government reform.

The matty little Independent Conservative, 74, pegged his candidacy to a demand for constitutional reforms providing for the dissolution of Parliament and a new national election any time a cabinet is overthrown in the first 18 months of its life.

Two U.S. Ships Transport Tanks To Yugoslavia

Belgrade, Yugoslavia (AP)—The United States furnished Communist Yugoslavia yesterday with a new powerful weapon — medium, modern tanks — to assist its military buildup against potential Russian aggression.

The American Embassy reported that two American cargo ships arrived at the Adriatic port of Rijeka (Fiume) with M47 tanks, along with other supplies under the U. S. military assistance program.

The delivery marked the 146th and 147th ships which have arrived here with military equipment since the U. S. began its defense aid program to Yugoslavia two years ago.

Chrysler Raises Pension Benefits

Detroit (AP)—Chrysler Corp. last night amended its five-year contract with the CIO United Auto Workers to include all the benefits granted the union earlier this week by General Motors Corp. and the Ford Motor Co.

Chrysler, as did Ford, agreed to raise its maximum pensions from $125 to $137.50 a month including primary social security benefits.

Last night the union went back to General Motors, the first of the Big Three to agree to contract changes, in an effort to boost GM pensions up to the new Ford and Chrysler level.

Congresswomen Consider Bills To Abolish 20 Per Cent Tax On Ladies' Handbags

Washington (AP)—A group of congresswomen yesterday considered a proposal to drop a tax that literally hits them right in the pocketbook—the present so-called luxury tax on ladies' handbags.

There are 12 women in this Congress and eight of them showed up at a luncheon discussion of bills introduced by two of them, Reps. St. George (R-NY) and Kelly (D-NY).

These bills call for the elimination of the 20 per cent excise tax on handbags.

"There is no question," Mrs. Kelly said, "but that this tax is discriminatory."

Max Berkowitz, a spokesman for the handbag industry, put it this way:

"To a woman, a handbag is essential. Where do they get this 'luxury' tax business? It's just the same as if you put a tax on men's pants pockets."

Whether the eight women will react to the bills as women—and vote as a group to ask for the removal of the tax—isn't known. The meeting was informal, and reporters were shooed out of the room.

But Berkowitz, with 53 years in the handbag business, was eager to state the arguments for dropping the tax.

Budget Reductions Of 33.5 Millions Outlined By Fine

Harrisburg (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine yesterday offered an eight-point tax program and 33½ million dollars in budget cuts as a solution to the commonwealth's tax deadlock.

The Governor scaled down his revenue demands from 157 millions to 120 millions and said the lawmakers could take their choice of levies from a tax package he estimated could yield 151½ millions in the next two years.

Fine told a joint session of the Legislature he would veto any increase in the present five per cent corporate net income tax.

Fine listed these possible taxes as a means of raising the 120 to 127½ millions which he said are needed to balance the commonwealth's proposed $1,100,000,000 budget:

A $5 per capita tax on all Pennsylvanians between 21 and 65 years of age.

Ten per cent amusement tax.

Five per cent hotel room occupancy tax.

Five per cent luxury tax on jewelry, furs, toilet preparations, luggage, handbags and wallets.

Five per cent tax on telephone and telegram messages within the state.

Increasing the 4 cents a pack cigarette tax to 5 cents.

Imposing a cent an ounce tax on smoking tobacco and cigars at the rate of a cent for those costing 4 cents or less, 2 cents for those costing between 5 and 10 cents and 3 cents for those costing 11 cents or more.

A tax of 3½ per cent on gas and electric bills.

"All these taxes are distasteful to me," Fine told the representatives and senators.

"I do not advocate any particular tax. I might be compelled to sign any or all of the following taxes to provide necessary funds for health, welfare, education and other services for our people."

The governor then listed the eight possible levies.

Both Republicans and Democrats reacted to Fine's tax package with tongue in cheek. Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said he believed the governor actually wanted a sales tax.

Meanwhile, the Senate called an early morning session today to complete legislative action on continuing the 1 per cent real estate transfer tax for another two years.

The levy, due to expire at the end of the month, is estimated to yield 29 millions.

In addressing the lawmakers and an overflow crowd of spectators in the ornate House chamber, Fine described the current tax impasse as "an emergency problem."

The governor made no mention of his previous contention that Republicans lacked a large enough majority in the House to pass a broad base levy such as an income or sales tax.

The governor, in ruling out a corporate net income tax boost, said he would also oppose revival of the cent a bottle soft drinks impost in conformance with both GOP and Democratic platform pledges.

Proposals for a 1 per cent unincorporated business tax or a mercantile tax also came in for Fine's disfavor.

Pennsylvania business already pays "overburdensome taxes," he told the lawmakers in outlining his position against increasing corporation taxes.

"We are all mindful that no one particularly likes taxes," he said. "I detest them as much as any other Pennsylvanian, but we all know they are necessary if needed services are to be performed."

Fine said 33½ million dollars in budget cuts could be accomplished by:

Tightening public assistance controls, saving 12½ millions.

Cutting back school subsidies by 12 millions under a plan to halve grants for kindergarten operations, to limit grants for instruction to the actual amount spent for instruction and to pay subsidies for merger, jointure or additional school construction only where improved education administration can be proved.

Giving state institutional employees a 5 per cent salary boost instead of 10 per cent if they are to receive a 40-hour week. This would save 7½ millions.

Reducing from $150 to $75 the grant per nurse for nurses' training in state-aided hospitals to save a million dollars.

In addition to these 33 millions in economies, Fine said six millions may be obtained by lapsing unused appropriations in the current biennium.

Fine also said recent economic developments now permit him to increase estimates of revenues from present taxes in the next two years to 20 millions more than estimated last January in his budget message.

These factors — budget cuts, lapsed appropriations and increasing revenue estimates — means that the original 157 millions tax need cited in January can now be cut back to 97½ millions.

He boosted the 97½ million dollar figure to between 120 and 127½ millions on the basis of new appropriation needs arising in the past five months.

Elections Held By Lutherans

Philadelphia, (AP)—Two big Lutheran organizations meeting simultaneously here elected presidents yesterday and approved moves affecting church administration.

Rev. Dr. Charles M. Cooper, professor of the Old Testament at Mt. Airy Seminary, was elected president of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania and Adjacent States and Rev. Dwight F. Putnam was re-elected to his second five-year term as head of the Central Pennsylvania Synod.

House Leaders To Crack Down On Absenteeism

Harrisburg (AP)—House leaders indicated last night they will crack the whip on absentee legislators when the General Assembly returns here June 8.

The House plans a brief session today and then a week's recess until June 8. The Senate called a midnight session last night and then planned to recess also until June 8.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, told the House he will call for a roll-call of the members at the beginning of each day's session after the week's recess. The House has been criticized for passing bills without a constitutional majority of 105 members present.

Rep. H. G. Andrews, Democratic floor leader, joined with Johnson's plan.

Van Zandt To Speak At GOP Dinner

Cong. James Van Zandt, representing Pennsylvania's 23rd Congressional District, will be principal speaker at the Monroe County Council of Republican Women's banquet Monday, June 1 at 8 p.m. in Shawnee Inn.

Van Zandt has been elected to his congress post in the 77th, 78th, 80th, 81st, 82nd and 83rd Congresses. He resigned his post during the second session of the 78th to serve with the Armed Forces in World War Two.

James Van Zandt

During his years in the House, Van Zandt has served on numerous special committees, plus the following regular committees: Merchant Marine and Fisheries, Patents, Immigration and Naturalization, World War Veterans, Armed Services and the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy.

His special work has been identified with investigations of shipbuilding, veteran affairs and atomic energy. As a member of the Merchant Marine Committee, he laid the groundwork for expansion of the U.S. Maritime Service.

Van Zandt's address will be the highlight of the meeting, which also features the coronation of a "Mr. and Mrs. Republican" for 1953.

On hand to do the honors in crowning the winners will be the owner of Shawnee Inn, Fred Waring.

Tickets for the event may be secured from Mrs. Olaf Pedersen or from any other member of the executive board of the council.

Girl Scouts To Parade

Girl Scouts will march in the Memorial Day parade Saturday morning.

Leaders ask that all scouts meet at 8:30 a.m. at the rear of the YMCA building.

All girls having uniforms are requested to wear them. Color guards are to be in complete uniform with red sashes and white gloves.

Girls without uniforms may wear dark skirts and white blouses.

Ban On New State Buildings Urged

Harrisburg, (AP)—Rep. Charles A. Auker (R-Ill.) proposed last night a five-year ban on the construction of new state buildings "until we get our feet on the ground financially."

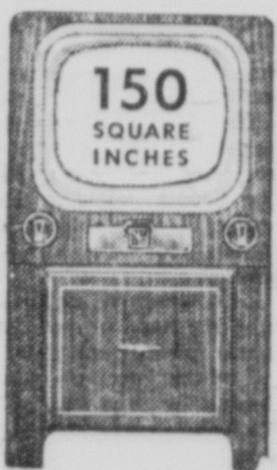

Auker introduced a measure to prohibit the General State Authority—the commonwealth's borrow and build agency—from taking on any new projects until 1958.

Possinger, Powers Gain Nominations

Mount Pocono—Official returns showed that Gerald M. Possinger received the nomination for burgess on the Democratic ticket with 61 votes.

Possinger was the only one listed on the ballot. Republicans failed to put up a candidate. Incumbent Louis T. Powers, who did not file a petition for nomination, nevertheless won the nomination on the Republican ticket on the strength of 19 write-in votes. Runner-up with 15 write-ins was Tom Lynott, a coal dealer.

Possinger, who has been council president for years, also received three Republican write-ins. Lynott polled one Democratic write-in. For council, Democrats nominated Emanuel Miller and William J. Murray with 53 votes each, and Patrick J. Horgan with 50 votes. Republicans H. John Davis and George T. Walker each got a Democratic write-in vote.

Republican nominees are: J. Frank Birdsall Jr. and George Walker with 83 votes each, and Davis with 79. There was one write-in for E. Heller.

Charles Brock had 88 votes for Republican nominee as school director. Democratic nomination went to Jennie M. Battisto with 59. E. C. Hersh had one write-in. For Justice of the peace, Democrat Emma Merwin got 59 votes on her own ticket and 17 on the Republican ticket.

Kenneth Miller won both nominations too with 10 Democratic votes as candidate for constable and 90 Republican votes.

For tax collector Bessie C. Ingersoll clinched the Republican nomination with 84 votes. Democrats named Martin J. Brennan with 37. Runner-up was Richard P. DeHaven with 18, followed by Glenn Boote with 12.

Republicans named Glenice M. Dutter auditor candidate with 90 votes. A single Democratic write-in gave the Democratic nomination to Anna L. Vlossak.

Judges of elections candidates are: Republican, Cassie Gilpin with 78 votes; Democrat, Dorothea D. Serfass with 67.

Nominees as inspector of elections went to Anna Vlossak with six Democrat votes and to Theresa F. Cruse with 90 Republican votes.

Forrest Smith Wins Both Nominations For Burgess

Delaware Water Gap—Forrest Smith is the nominee of both parties for the burgess post here, official primary returns showed yesterday.

A Democrat, he polled 36 votes on his own ticket, and won the Republican nomination too with a single write-in. No other names were proposed on either ticket.

Named to council nominations by the Democrats were: Richard D. Kitchen with 30 votes each, and John Flynn and John R. Staples with 29 each. Four councilmen are to be elected.

Republican candidates are: Russell Shellenberger, 55; Francis R. Drake, 54; Carlton, with five write-ins; and Staples with six write-ins. It means Carlton and Staples will be on both party labels in November.

Lillian Stark won both party nominations as school director, with 43 Republican votes and three Democratic write-ins. No one else was named.

Justice of the Peace J. T. Hauser won nomination to reelection to his post with 50 Republican votes and three Democratic votes.

Also without opposition in November will be Clarence E. Newhart, with 40 Democrat votes and one Republican write-in.

The same applies to John R. Staples as assessor; he had 29 Democratic votes and one Republican write-in.

Lillienne Jones had 35 Democratic votes as borough auditor. No Republican votes were cast for that post.

Republicans named E. Layton Hauser as elections judge with 54 votes, while Democrats picked Benton Keller with 35 votes.

Both parties gave the inspector of elections nomination to Republican Marian Drake, who got 54 Republican votes and two Democratic write-ins. Runner-up on the Democratic side was Nellie Burd with a single write-in. Procedure here will be determined by the county board of elections, since there must be one majority and one minority inspector.

Cherry Lane

Mrs. William Clugston

A picnic supper was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Minnie Lesoin last Friday night by the following: Miss Gruver, Mrs. John Lee, Mrs. Lindy Kirkhuff, Mrs. Russell Cramer, Mrs. Mabel Henry and the hostess.

Mrs. and Mrs. Earl Hallet are having extensive alterations made to their kitchen, in which work they are being assisted by their son-in-law, Ray Cortright.

Mrs. Stella Buckman, Mrs. Arthur Sebring, Mrs. Paul Shiffer and Charles Sebring called on Mrs. Myrtle Hallet, Mrs. Minnie Lesoin and other friends in the section one day last week. While passing their former home, now occupied by Mr. Hoffman, who has been making extensive alterations, they were invited to stop and see the changes and improvements.

The bake sale held by the members of the Cherry Lane choir Saturday proved successful. Mrs. Shaffer and her corps of helpers expressed appreciation for the support. Mrs. Shaffer reports an attendance of some 24 children and adults at Sunday School. Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co. was called to the home of Mr. Shaffer and Mrs. John Kane, late Saturday afternoon. A brush fire was controlled before the arrival of the volunteers.

Bird Watching

Mrs. Robert Arny, president of the Federated Naturalists of New Jersey, estimates that 15,000,000 Americans are actively interested today in birds.

The hobby of this big segment of the population is bird watching or as they prefer to call it, "birding."

After having studied an Audubon book as a youngster and having watched various feathered pets through much of a lifetime, as well as observing the birds of the fields and city streets, we can appreciate the avocation of so many people for "birding."

Birds become fast friends, and given the slightest encouragement they seem to "adopt" certain homes and persons.

Mrs. Arny suggests if you would like birds around your home, you should plant vegetation they like such as berry-bearing shrubs and white birches, put out food they like, lamb bones, peanut butter and oatmeal, and lure them with water.

Direct Loans by VA

The direct loan program of the Veterans Administration is paying off.

Latest figures show that the program, which has enabled thousands of World War II veterans to buy homes in rural areas through direct 4 per cent loans from VA where loans from banks and similar institutions were not available, has returned $15,000,000 more than appropriations made by the Congress.

And of course the profit from the venture will increase as the years go by, with the former service personnel being as highly dependable in meeting those direct obligations to the government as they have been in the overall GI mortgage setup which has shown an infinitesimally small fraction of repudiation.

The present authority for direct VA loans expires on June 30. Bills are before the Congress to extend the program to June 30, 1955, with further appropriations to enable new loans. With more veterans returning from service, it is essential that they be given the same opportunity for home-ownership as their elder brothers have had.

15-Cent Butter

The housewife who bought butter this week could hardly expect to get the kind of bargain the Army has just struck with the Department of Agriculture. The Army is getting its butter at 15 cents a pound and will take over 50 million pounds.

The deal will cost the Department of Agriculture a loss of $26 million. Or looking at it another way, the deal will cost the taxpayer—housewife included—$26 million.

The Department of Agriculture has been buying butter by the millions of pounds at 67 cents per. That practice will continue. Meanwhile the Army, with the tax-paid-for butter, will stop buying oleomargarine at 17 cents a pound.

It is all a confusing bit of economics, and we don't wonder that the housewife says "how come?" The answer is in the price support laws passed by Congress.

The Once Over

Bermuda Huddle

Bermuda is a strange place for a conference in a cold war. Location, climate, mood, and scene.

Effects continue to make it difficult to keep the mind on trouble. It is like naming Palm Beach for a conference on a waterfront crime. Bermuda is an exotically beautiful vacationland and it will be hard for the free world leaders to realize they are on a mission in an hour of global crisis, not on a Cook's tour. We would feel more hopeful if the boys were meeting in Reykjavik, Iceland, or Cape Hatteras, Labrador, where life is more rugged and there is no temptation to drop everything and take a nap on the sun terrace.

In an hour of grave decisions, it is hard to think of a conference of top leaders in Bermuda without seeing dancing girls in a musical comedy background and hearing the strains of exotic melodies and laughter on the beaches. Bermuda suggests love, relaxation, freedom from care. Global plottings, ultimatums, secret weapons and atomic energy seem out of place there. Still the main object is to get the Big Three together to see if they can recognize each other from newspaper photos to get the leaders of our side back on a friendly basis—hence the climate and clarity of the atmosphere may help. We see an agenda along this line:

1—Winnie Churchill arrives and checks to make sure Clem Attlee hasn't followed him.
2—President Eisenhower is sighted, and all golf courses are ordered closed immediately in the interest of concentration.
3—The French leader arrives and leaves word at the hotel desk to call him in the event of news from Paris that he has been replaced en route.
4—First session is disturbed by her remark to the British leader, "Pardon me but are you the Churchill who used to be Churchill?" Musical Number: "I Don't See Me in Your Eyes Any more."
5—The purposes of NATO are restated so each man can see where he is, and if not so, why. Re-examination of goal posts. Discussion topic: "What happens?" Message from United Nations: "In case you get together let us know; we're having trouble that way, also."
6—Map reading. Orchestral selections: "Can't We Be Friendly," "Where Do We Go From Here?" "You Gotta Stop Kicking My Dug Around." "Will You Love Me in December as You Do in May?"

7—Debate: "Are bickering and abuse necessary as a proof of a common purpose?" Address by President Eisenhower: "Whither Bound, and Let's Be Positive."

8—Telegram from President Rhee of Korea: "Sincerely hope for an early peace between England and the United States: Remember me!"

9—Adjournment following a report that Churchill was seen buying a souvenir postal and asking: "How do you spell Mao Tseung's name?" Reassembly on statement by Winnie that he knows very well how to spell it.

10—Discussion on main subject: "Can't We Be Happy Without Another Run-Around From the Kremlin?"

11—Cable from Chiang Kai-shek: "Remember that while I need a lot of things, ONIONS are not among them."

12—Formal truce signing between France, England and the U. S. Duet by Churchill and Eisenhower: "The Best Thing for You Is ME."

The International Garment Workers Union has called for conferences on world peace. It may believe that the complaint of the Goddess of Peace is: "I'd like to go but I haven't a thing to wear." . . . And it favors a stylish peace with a smart line and a wide choice of fabrics. . . . Jockey Guerin found "Jamie K" bearing down on "Native Dancer" so fast in the Preakness that he must have thought for a moment the jockey was Gypsy Rose Lee. . . . President Eisenhower has changed the name of Shangri La to Camp David, after his father and grandson. . . . But he may have had in mind, too, the Biblical David in putting a new monicker on P. D. R.'s retreat. . . . Ike was never a Shangri-La man, his dominant mood being that of the lad who girded his loins and smote the giant. . . . "Beachcomber" won a recent race at Belmont and it was Shudda Ha d d i m who asked: "Who's up, Flotsam or Jetsam?" . . . A contributing cause to the light-hearted way juveniles take crime may be the adults (like that woman bank forger) who following a prison sentence, was photographed for the tabloids grinning from ear to ear. . . . If you think your job is uncertain, give a thought to the president of France.

A standard railway passenger coach costs around $125,000, while a modern Pullman sleeping car costs in the neighborhood of $163,000.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Interest Rate Policy Causes Controversies

Washington — A highly significant difference of opinion has developed in inner White House councils over the Administration's new high interest rate policy.

Its advisability is being challenged by two of the President's top economic advisers.

From the start of this far-reaching fiscal program it has been a controversial issue in congressional and political circles. But there had been no hint it was also under fire in the President's own staff.

This important backstage situation was uncovered by the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report.

Because of the growing contention over the rate-raising policy, the Committee decided to make a study of the matter. This plan was adopted after an extended discussion during which some of the committee members demanded public hearings. But in the end, a survey was agreed on with the full approval of Senator Ralph Flanders, Vt., vice-chairman and senior Republican member.

So far this study has revealed the following:

That the policy of hiking government interest rates is being vigorously disputed by Dr. Arthur F. Burns, the President's one-man Economic Council, and Gabriel Hauge, one of the President's administrative assistants. Burns is a former economics professor of Columbia University, and Hauge is a former editor of the influential BUSINESS WEEK.

Forcefully, and so far successfully, opposing their view are Treasury Secretary George Humphrey, and Sherman Adams, the assistant to the President.

Crux of the cleavage between these two powerful inner groups is whether inflation or deflation is the key immediate danger facing the nation's economy.

Burns and Hauge argue that deflation is the most serious menace and that the "hard money" concept being imposed by Humphrey and Adams is inducing a hazardous contraction of business by limiting credit and purchasing power. This view is flatly rejected by Humphrey and Adams who contend that inflation is the greater evil and that it must be curbed by putting into effect the sound money pledges made by the President in his 1952 campaign.

The Joint Committee has also learned that Dr. Burns is stymied on a reorganization plan he has drawn up regarding the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

At present, Burns is the only member of that Council. Under his proposal, it would be restored to three members, as it was under the Democrats. The Committee has been informed that Adams disapproves of this and is blocking its submission to President Eisenhower.

Note: Former Federal Reserve Board Chairman Marriner Eccles, who broke with Truman and supported the GOP last year, is backing Burns and Hauge in the interest rate controversy. In a letter to the Joint Committee, Eccles wrote, "The credit tightening policy being pursued by the Treasury and Federal Reserve are unnecessary to stop further price inflation. Their action is being taken after the event and should have been taken long ago. Price inflation has already run its course; shortages have disappeared and surpluses are taking their place. The greatest immediate danger now is deflation and not inflation."

Significant omission — Defense Secretary Charles Wilson made a slip during his appearance before the Senate Appropriations Committee that may prove embarrassing to him.

Committeemen have discovered that he deleted a significant paragraph from his lengthy prepared explanation of the $5,100,000,000 slash in the Air Force's budget.

When Wilson read the statement to the Committee, he carefully omitted this paragraph. But through an oversight, it was not killed in copies that got into the hands of Committee members. So the next time he comes before them, they are going to grill him on why he dropped the paragraph and what he meant by it.

Following is the missing statement:

"Our plan calls for achieving as much air power as possible within the limits of available resources. The timing and extent to which our goals for the Air Force can be achieved will depend in part on the speed and thoroughness with which savings can be made in less essential activities."

Committeemen opposing the drastic cut in Air Force funds argue this language contradicts Wilson's claim of "more planes for less money."

The oldest of the Greek letter societies, Phi Beta Kappa, was founded at William and Mary College, Virginia, in 1776.

Balboa, discoverer of the Pacific Ocean, named it the Great South Sea. Magellan later gave it its historic name.

Boston, Mass., once was known as Trenton because of the three hills on which the city stands.

The first United States census was taken in 1790.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Coronation Ceremony No Mere Formality To British, But Very Marrow of Their Nation

Kings and Queens

At the turn of the century, the world was full of kings and queens who formed a society of their own, an aristocracy of birth, tracing back for a thousand years in Europe and closely associated by marriages and family.

A rigid social system, stabilized in an ethical code which all understood and none transgressed openly, dominated all classes of human beings. The upper crust of society recognized its obligations to maintain this code, lest the human order become disturbed.

These feudal families had their warning in the French Revolution and in Napoleonism, from which France never recovered. First the genius, Talleyrand, and then Bismarck had re-established an order which was withstanding the battering waves of Socialism and revolution.

Victoria could smile at such fears, for in her British Empire this really German Queen had won an affection not experienced by her numerous relatives on the continent. The aged Franz-Josef of Austria-Hungary was heading a diminishing Empire—proudest house of all Europe, the Hapsburgs, but already going to pieces.

Nicholas II of Russia remained the most autocratic of autocrats, but he was afraid of his power and of the unrest among the complex of peoples who composed his Empire. Such queer organizations were coming into existence as the Social Democratic Party of George Plekhanov, which was frightening because these German ideas were proving attractive to intellectuals even among the aristocracy.

The Hohenzollern had emerged after the Napoleonic era as the leading house among the Germanic nations. Bismarck had created a mighty state, but he was a servant to a royal house, and as a servant, he was in effect, dismissed. Wilhelm II, young, aggressive, impetuous, jealous of Great Britain, fearful of Russia, with a parvenu's love of publicity, held center of the stage and held it until war brought him exile.

There were many other kings and queens, and their visits to each other, their meetings at various spas, their marriages and funerals were affairs of the greatest importance. They were the terminus of feudalism and few of them have survived the wars, revolutions and depressions of the past half century.

Kings were toppled from their thrones. Carlos I of Portugal and his son Manuel II were among the first to go. Carlos by assassination; Manuel by flight. Pu-Yi of Manchuria was driven from the Chinese throne. World War I destroyed the Hapsburgs and Hohenzollern; the Turkish dynasty fell before the Young Turks. Spain, Portugal, Italy, the Balkan countries became republics of one kind or another.

The ancient institutions of royalty continued in the Scandinavian countries and the Netherlands, Belgium, Greece and in Great Britain in Europe. There are still several kings in Asia and the equivalent of kings in Africa. In Europe, the remaining kings are limited monarchs, controlled by constitutions and acts of legislation. They are democratic and beloved. They have survived this era of so-called democracy because they have held the affections of their people. None of them rules over his people. Their influence upon their subjects is profound because of the emotional response which their persons evoke.

The institution of kingship in Great Britain is about to experience a stimulating renewal in the dramatic pageantry of the coronation of Elizabeth II, a young woman who charms her people by her simplicity and Englishness. The British have had several Queens, the greatest of these were Elizabeth and Victoria.

Elizabeth II starts her reign under political strain in which she is an onlooker. But the hope of the British is that her personality will keep what is left of the Empire and Commonwealth bound together in the Crown. It is this hope and belief that makes the Crown so politically essential to Great Britain at this time.

Elizabeth II's consort, Philip of Greece, whose family is closely related to hers, both being of German origin, seems to be the most British of Britishers and may come to mean to Britain what Victoria's consort, Albert of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, came to mean in another era.

It is one of the phenomena of our period that no anti-monarchical movement exists in Great Britain and that the British subject, even in the days of highest taxes, prefers the expense of monarchy. The coronation ceremony and festivities are with them no mere formality; it is of the very marrow of that nation.

The Australian government administers the eastern half of New Guinea while the Dutch hold the other half.

You're Telling Me

—by William Ritt

As we understand it, that Big Three confab in Bermuda in June will be between President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill and Monsieur Whosis—whatever happens to be French premier at the moment.

The then premier of France, Rene Mayer, was invited but he was out of office before he had a chance to open mail.

Incidentally, since the session will be held in Bermuda we assume the delegates will know their onions.

Bermuda is a wonderful place for an international conference. Life is so beautiful there it is difficult to get mad at anyone, even an ally.

Bermuda is only 580 miles from the U. S.—close enough for all of us to keep an eye on the proceedings.

The main island of Bermuda has three sounds—Great, Little and Harrington. These, however, have nothing to do with the language of diplomacy.

William Shakespeare, in his play "The Tempest," referred to the place as "The still vexed Bermoothes." Will's spelling was "way off" and, let's hope his prophecy is no better.

10 Years Ago

Father James Keller sent me an advance copy of a little booklet entitled "Why the Christians?"

Father Keller, as you may know, is the head of the Christophers movement, which has spread pretty well all over the country.

Catholics, Jews and Protestants belong to it and I have been asked about it many times.

Frankly, I didn't know much about the Christophers until the booklet arrived.

But since reading it, I have come to the conclusion that it is simply a movement to make you LIVE your religion — and there is certainly nothing wrong with that.

I have never been much of an advocate of sectarianism in religion.

Neither have I ever told my wife or any other woman how to dress, nor have I interfered with a man's smoking or non-smoking habits.

Religion, as I have often said, is or should be PART of one's BEING. It should come as naturally as breathing, eating, sleeping.

Religion should come instinctively or not at all. Deep down in his heart every man has his own personal religion, anyway, so why tell him whether he should communicate with his God through a priest, a minister or a rabbi? That's his business, not mine or anyone's else.

I am certainly not urging you to join the Christophers. That, too, is your business, not mine. But they have seven chief aims which, even when not applied to religion at all, are seven good darn good rules of life.

Here they are:

(a) More to "improve," fewer merely to "disapprove."

(b) More "doers," fewer "talkers."

(c) More to say "it can be done," fewer to say "it can't be done."

(d) More to inspire others with "confidence," fewer to

PET SHOP

A slight mishap marred the premiere of Menotti's new opera, The Consul, at the famous La Scala in Milan. Tenor Andrea McKinley played a magician in the show, and was required to produce some doves from an empty bowl. The birds were delivered as per order at McKinley's apartment on the afternoon of the premiere, but when he came home from the dress rehearsal, he discovered that his resourceful Italian cook had broiled them for dinner.

A TV show designed for kiddies offered a fifty dollar prize for the best letter of less than a hundred words explaining what the writer thereof liked best about the program. One honest kid who should have won—but didn't—wrote: "The reason I like your show is because as soon as it's over, a better one comes on."

He produces her films. She's in love mit ananda . . . Johnnie Ray's film debut will co-star him with Eth, the Merm, in 20th's Cinemascope - Technicolor, "No Business Like Etc." . . . Dodgers' hurler Billy Loos is doing his best pitching at actress Geraldine Page.

Memo from Girl Friday: "Wonderful news about Arthur Godfrey in the papers. But the low-down is this: He is not the type to sit still that long and it was Arthur who said 'no more at this time!' He will be immobile for about a month and then go home, start swimming and riding a bike for exercise. They let him sit up Sunday to watch you and when you pounded the desk (at the get-off cue: 'Last Line!') and you yelled 'It's not so important as finishing the news about Arthur!' he broke down and cried like a big baby! Told me on phone."

We returned to see "Can-Can" with a regular audience (after seeing it with a benefit crowd) and the laughs were more abundant. Why are benefit-goers so stiff? . . . The Mills Bros. follow Ella Fitzgerald at La Vie tomorrow evening . . . Frank Graham, Jr., (son of the Journal - American sports ace) set his own deadline with Ada Cogan . . . To Dean, Jerry, Sid and Perry: An embrace (from the Committee) for Sunday's golf-match which played to over 3500 persons (at $2 each) for the Ruyon Fund. Thanks for the Fore-Star show! . . . Times Square Change: Josephine Baker kissed Cholly Chumplin. Remember when Borey Punk and the Compost kept kissing her? (Plizz! Not while I'm eating!)

The gazettes report Godfrey is taking his hospitalization with his chin up. When a guy waits 20 years to become a Star he learns how to suffer.

"Dear Mr. Winchell: You can't realize how grateful I am for your warning in the paper against certain individuals I met in Beverly Hills. You probably saved me thousands of dollars. Please allow me to contribute a small check ($500) to the cancer fund so close to your heart. It would be an honor to do so. Again thanks a million. Check enclosed — R. H. Bailey."

You're welcome, thanks for your generous check which I tore up. There are never any financial transactions Before—After — or In-Between any story covered by me.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

A slight mishap marred the premiere of Menotti's new opera, The Consul, at the famous La Scala in Milan. Tenor Andrea McKinley played a magician in the show, and was required to produce some doves from an empty bowl. The birds were delivered as per order at McKinley's apartment on the afternoon of the premiere, but when he came home from the dress rehearsal, he discovered that his resourceful Italian cook had broiled them for dinner.

A TV show designed for kiddies offered a fifty dollar prize for the best letter of less than a hundred words explaining what the writer thereof liked best about the program. One honest kid who should have won—but didn't—wrote: "The reason I like your show is because as soon as it's over, a better one comes on."

Flory Polls Top Vote In East Stroudsburg Primary Balloting

Vote Canvass Uncovers One Tie Contest

East Stroudsburg official primary returns showed no upsets over unofficial returns. There was only one tie reported.

For nomination as burgess, the following votes were tallied: Jesse Flory was high man with 256 Republican votes. There were five Republican write-ins for Marshall H. Neyhart and three for Clyde Shaffer, both of whom ran on the Democratic ticket.

Democratic nomination was won by Schaffer with 224 votes, Neyhart was next with 98. Flory had three Democratic write-ins.

There were no real contests for council. Nominated on the Republican ticket were: Harold Wiggins, First Ward, with high vote of 74; Jack A. Wyckoff, Third Ward, 42 votes; Roy Lloyd, Sixth Ward, with seven write-ins, which gives him the nomination on both tickets.

Republicans also gave write-ins votes to Herman Smeltz, a Third Ward Democrat, two votes; and Walter Counterman, a Sixth Ward Democrat, four votes.

Democratic votes nominated: Harold Wiggins, with 14 write-ins in the First Ward, putting him on both tickets; Smeltz with 43 Third Ward votes; and Lloyd with 63 Sixth Ward votes. Runner-up to Lloyd was Counterman with 37.

Democratic write-ins were for Russell Philman, First Ward, one; Jack Wyckoff, Third Ward, one. For the three posts of school director, the only contest was on the Democratic ticket.

Nominations went to: James S. Bunnell, 242; Jacob M. Hill, 241; and David L. Miller, 236. Out of the running was Elwood LeBar with 102.

There were single Democratic write-ins for Jack Wyckoff, Evan C. Reese, Hanford Cleveland and M. J. Leitner.

Republican nominations went to: Dr. Evan C. Reese, 235; Dr. Leitner, 226; and Cleveland, 202. Republicans wrote in Hill five, David Miller four, Bunnell four, LeBar one.

Paul W. Lloyd has the Republican nomination as tax collector with 261 votes. Only write-in was for Dewey Jacoby, with two.

Democratic candidate for collector is Jacoby with 240. Lloyd had one Democratic write-in.

Second and Fourth Ward Republicans did not even write in a candidate for assessor. As a result, the Democrats will be unopposed there in November. Write-ins nominated three other Democrats.

Republicans nominated: Schuman Smith, First Ward, 66; Raymond Mansfield, Third Ward Democrat, two write-ins; Harold Smith, Fifth Ward Democrat, one write-in; and Fred Lipe Sr., Sixth Ward Democrat.

Winning Democratic nominations were: Paul Shaffer, First Ward, 37; James E. Beers, Second Ward, 45; Raymond O. Mansfield, Third Ward, 38; Theodore R. Henning, Fourth Ward, 33 votes, with Mildred A. Dennis as runner-up; Harold H. Smith, Fifth Ward, 36, with Chester Staples receiving four write-ins; and Fred Lipe Sr., Sixth Ward, 66.

For the auditor's post, no Democratic name appeared on the ticket.

James Beers won on the strength of seven write-ins. Floyd Titus garnered two, and Howard Eckert and Cliff Lambert got one each.

Republicans gave the nomination to Titus with 231 votes. Raymond Mansfield had two write-ins.

Democratic nominees for inspector of elections will be: Jean T. Hastie, First Ward, 37; Mrs. Elva M. Peters, Second Ward, 45; Gertrude Blitz, Third Ward, 35; Mary C. Brown, Fourth Ward, 43; Charlotte A. Smith, Fifth Ward, 24, with Annetta M. Staples as runner-up with 20; and Irma Titus, Sixth Ward, nine.

Republican nominees will be: Maude E. Bowman, First Ward, 72; Elsie Bush, Second Ward, 52; Marion Kintner, Third Ward, five;

Two Students Selected For Awards At Coolbaugh High

Tobyhanna—Eleanor Lorraine Pope and Alexander J. Konopka are winners of the Babe Ruth Awards at Coolbaugh High School this year. Miss Pope is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Pope, Konopka is the son of Mrs. Anna Konopka. The two students won the awards for scholarship and extra-curricular activity.

Other sports awards were presented to Norma Cadue, Janet Freach and Mellinee Keiper, cheerleaders; Mary Lou Lynch and Lorraine Pope, timekeeper and scorekeeper; Nelson Saxe, Konopka and Donald Kinsley, basketball. Miss Lynch received the trophy for high salesmanship in the magazine campaign and Judy Frankfield won the Penco Test award.

Emily C. Bush, Fourth Ward, 33; Virginia Whitman, Fifth Ward, 26; and a tie—the only tie in the borough—between Nora Staples and Irma Titus who got a vote each out of the Sixth Ward.

A drawing may not be necessary to break this tie, because Irma Titus is a Democrat, and has the Democratic nomination. There must be one inspector from each party. The board of elections will determine if a withdrawal by Irma Titus from the Republican ticket is indicated, and if this would leave Nora Staples with the Republican nomination.

Republicans nominated: Schuman Smith, First Ward, 66; Raymond Mansfield, Third Ward Democrat, two write-ins; Harold Smith, Fifth Ward Democrat, one write-in; and Fred Lipe Sr., Sixth Ward Democrat.

Winning Democratic nominations were: Paul Shaffer, First Ward, 37; James E. Beers, Second Ward, 45; Raymond O. Mansfield, Third Ward, 38; Theodore R. Henning, Fourth Ward, 33 votes, with Mildred A. Agreement Reached In Damage Case

Private agreement brought a discontinuance yesterday of the injunction action against Thomas P. Rogers Stone Co. quarry, which was being heard in county court. Plaintiffs were Mr. and Mrs. Ole K. Larsen, whose property adjoins the quarry. They asked $10,000 damages. Larsens were represented by Russell Mervine and Charles Bensinger Jr., who called 14 witnesses to the stand Tuesday.

Rogers was counseled by Arlington W. Williams. Agreement between counsel was reached outside court, so that no further testimony was taken yesterday.

A move to discontinue the case was approved by President Judge Fred W. Davis. A spokesman indicated the stone company may purchase the Larsen property.

Dog Bites Boy's Face

A two and a half year-old boy was bitten on the face by a dog Tuesday and treated in Monroe County General Hospital dispensary. The child is Tommy Hilgert, 808 Fairview Ave., Stroudsburg.

Also treated was Charles T. Loring, of Moscow, employed by Johnson, Drake and Piper Co. on the Delaware River bridge project at Water Gap. He was struck in the chest by a bucket and suffered contusion.

DEATHS

FOWLER, Miss Katharine in East Stroudsburg, May 26, aged 80. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend funeral services Friday, May 29 at 9 a.m. from the Dunkelberger & Westbrook funeral home. Interment in the Creveling (Almedia, Pa.) cemetery.

Groups To Place American Flags At Vets' Graves

Veterans organizations will cooperate with the Veterans Affairs office, Stroudsburg, in erecting flags at ceremonies in East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg tonight and tomorrow, it was announced last night.

Howard Mount, chairman of the Memorial Day committee has urged veterans to report to Stroudsburg Cemetery at 6 tonight. Graves committee of American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts of Monroe County are aiding in the project.

Rain, Wind Lash Part Of County

Brief but violent rain and wind squalls pounded the northern part of Monroe County last night, knocking out power and telephone service in limited sections.

Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. spokesmen said the first "tip" (a seconds-long power cut-out) occurred at 9:14 p.m. There were three "trips" in all, on the 12 KV line between Mount Pocono and Barret.

Crews from the Mount Pocono substation still were working on the breaks at 11 p.m., and the only section without power then was reported to be on the Dutch Hill tapline, from Canadensis along the Coalville and Dutch Hill roads.

M. J. Muschock Services Held

Funeral services for Michael J. Muschock were held at 9:30 a.m. yesterday with mass in St. Matthew's Church, East Stroudsburg. Rev. Francis Barrett was celebrant. Pallbearers were Francis Phillips, Russell Rhinehart, Mike Chisner, John Marshall, Edward Monahan and John Armistage. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

Custodians Travel 532 Miles In Month On SPCA Duties

Mileage of 532 miles was rolled up in April by the SPCA custodians, Mr. and Mrs. George Wakefield, the society's directors learned last night. All the mileage was accumulated in picking up strays and running other SPCA mercy errands.

Some 70 dogs were handled at the shelter during the month, along with 35 cats and five chickens—result of Easter.

Homes were found for 22 dogs. An additional 14 were returned to owners after having strayed or been lost. This was the high for the year in number of dogs returned, Wakefield said it appeared that county residents were beginning to remember to call up or contact SPCA when a pet was lost, and the high returns followed.

One cat was also returned to its owner, and homes were found for 18 more.

Membership to date is 293 paid-up membership.

Anna Budicker Funeral Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Budicker, 77, of 842 Scott St., Stroudsburg, were held yesterday morning at the Warner funeral home. Rev. Frank H. Blatt officiated. Cremation took place at the Maple Hill Crematorium, Wilkes-Barre.

Pallbearers were Peter Budicker, Willie Wille, N. Froeder and N. Hug.

The wings of the ruby-throated hummingbird are about an inch long.

Signs Designate No Parking Zone On Ann Street

Ann St. Stroudsburg, between Fifth and sixth Sts., has been designated a "no parking" area, Stroudsburg police reported last night. Signs indicating parking is forbidden there at all times, were erected yesterday.

Hamilton PTA Says Farewell To Its One Room Schools

Bartonsville—"Farewell to the One Room School" was the theme of the program arranged by Mrs. Elmer Veety for the Hamilton Township Parent Teachers Association's last meeting of the 1952-53 term which was held Tuesday, May 26, at 8 p. m., in Kellersville School. Edmund Kozlowski, music instructor at Polk Township High School, introduced and accompanied on the piano three of his pupils, who sang the following selections: "My Baby's Comin' Home," by Lila Mae Schultz; "Beautiful Ohio," by Lila Mae Schultz and Patsy Albright; "I Believe," by Betty George, Mrs. Elva Knowles pantomimed recordings of "How Sorry You'll Be" and "Bubble Gum."

An impromptu address of "Hail and Farewell" was made by Mrs. Veety to the nine regular and two substitute teachers whom she had previously seated on the platform and presented with individual carnation corsages. Mrs. Ethel Rinker replied for the woman teachers and Henry Fenner for the men teachers.

Mr. Fenner has taught forty-one years and will be principal of the Scioto Consolidated School in September. It was announced that teachers have been assigned grades as follows for next year: First grade, Mr. Calvin Smith and Mrs. Ora Gray; second grade, Miss Helen Kirkhuff; third grade, Miss Mary Shiffer; fourth grade, John Mackes, fifth grade, Mrs. Ford Warner; sixth grade, Mrs. Ethel Rinker; seventh grade, Mrs. Mildred Cyphers; eighth grade, Henry Fenner.

Cake, coffee, fruit punch, candy were served from an attractively decorated table by Mrs. Albert Nelson and Mrs. Raymond Van Why.

Meetings will resume in September.

Rain Spoils Hot Dog Roast For Brownies

The Brownies of Troop 39 had a big disappointment on Monday afternoon when the rain spoiled the hot dog roast they had planned. They consoled themselves by adjourning to St. John's Lutheran church where they substituted cookies and potato chips for the hot dogs and salads they had planned for their last meeting of the season.

However they plan to roast their hot dogs on June 6 when a county-wide Brownie Rally will be held at the Stroud Roller rink. They also rehearsed the songs and games which they will present at the outing.

Attending the meeting were Brownies: Nina Bossard, Anne Denaky, Suzanne Buck, Joanne Andress, Janice Fisher, Barbara Potchar, Pamela Tittle; Kathy Speiser, Shirley Teleski; Shirley Hilliard, Nancy Metzgar, Judy Vaughn, Fay Vaughn, Margaret Schmidt, Barbara Lawson and Valerie Howitt.

Co-leaders of the troop are Mrs. Woodrow Fisher and Mrs. James Farry.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It's sort of a higgledy piggledy time right now, as confused as the weather for most of us. It's neither spring nor summer. There is school but with exams on the schedule you can't count on the hours; there are meetings, but not so many.

So while you have to keep a schedule, it's neither so rigid as the winter kind, nor so flexible as the summer.

The house is cold in the morning and hot in the afternoon, and so are the streets. If you wear a coat, you sweater under the sun; if you don't you shiver in the cold wind.

It will be sort of a relief to have things settle down to one thing or another. There's always one difficult period adjusting your mealtimes. When the children are in school, lunchtime dwindles down to a sandwich and a glass of milk, and it's sort of a shock to go on a three-day schedule again.

It's equally disturbing to get dinner at the regular hour and find that one child hasn't come home yet, another has to leave early and nobody wants a hot cooked meal.

Well, Memorial Day sort of marks the turning point and I guess we can live till then. It's only that our mental time piece needs to be turned to a lower rate.

Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:15 a.m.

Derhammer Home Scene Of Housewarming

Kunklestown. A group of friends surprised Mrs. Elsie Derhammer and Miss Alma Derhammer on Monday night with a housewarming party. Mrs. Derhammer's home has just been completely redecorated.

Their friends presented them with a large mirror for their living room. Games followed the surprise. Prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Barlieb, Mrs. Purie Borger and Mrs. Gordon Nicholas.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Purie Borger, of Palmerton; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Drumheller, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Barlieb, Rev. and Mrs. Adan Bohner, Mrs. May Goldman, Mrs. Sula Peters, Mrs. Earl Lobach, Mrs. Harvey Smale, Mrs. Alvin E. Gower and Harvey Boyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Horton were unable to attend.

One-a-Month Parties For Luther League

Officers of the Luther League of the four parishes of Hamilton, Mt. Eaton, Bartonsville, and Brodheadsville met at the home of Sam Budge on May 25.

The purpose of this meeting was to make a schedule of the activities for the three summer months. There will be one special activity a month with a skating party, doggy roast, and swimming parties.

Plans were made to have activities at each of the meetings. There will be movies, hand work meetings, speakers from other leagues, a talent show and other events.

It was decided to have three regular meetings a month and one special activity.

The officers decided that the league would send a delegate to the state convention in July.

Mrs. Sutton Entertains For Husband

Mount Pocono. Mrs. John Sutton entertained at a supper party Saturday night in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary.

Those attending included: Mr. and Mrs. William Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McColligan, and son, Bobby, of Scranton; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Storm and daughter, Linda, Miss Irene Slack, Cresco; Mrs. Joseph Kelly and Mrs. James Farley, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. Ida Warner, Mrs. L. C. Ingersoll and Miss Mabel Storm, Mt. Pocono; and Mr. and Mrs. Sutton.

Following the supper, slides were shown by Miss Slack who recently was discharged from the Army Nurse Corps after spending two years on duty in Korea. The slides were scenes of her activities while there and proved most interesting to the viewers.

Mrs. G. R. Hood Is Honored By DAR Staff

Mrs. G. Raymond Hood, retiring regent of the Jacob Stroud Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was Tuesday honored at a luncheon given by her executive board at the Inn at Buck Hill Falls.

Mrs. T. Manning Curtis, new regent of the chapter, presented to her the gift from the board.

Present for the luncheon were Mrs. Thomas Breitwieser, Mrs. Milo Rasely, Mrs. Frank S. Weiss, Miss Lulu Shafer, Mrs. Howard Flagler Jr., Miss Mary Kistler, Mrs. Horace Walters, Mrs. Herbert Bonser, Mrs. Curtis, and one guest, Mrs. Harold C. Edwards.

George Lee Is Honored On 75th Birthday

Delaware Water Gap—Mr. and Mrs. George Lee attended the wedding of their niece, Miss Joan Johnson, at Pompton Plains, N. J., Saturday afternoon, and the reception that followed. Charles Ackerman drove down with his parents, and the group had supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson in Caldwell, N. J.

When guests began to arrive at the Lee home in Water Gap, Sunday noon, Mr. Lee thought they had gathered to hear about the wedding. Even when fifteen people were in the dining room, it took the singing of "Happy Birthday" to reveal to him that his 75th birthday Saturday was being honored.

Mrs. Paul Ackerman had baked the birthday cake. All the guests brought special dishes and a cafeteria meal was enjoyed. Mr. Lee received cards and gifts. His guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ackerman and daughter Charlene, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stine and daughter Marilyn, Miss Joan Fry, Mrs. Esther Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Murphy and daughter Chrissie, all of the Stroudsburgs, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. George Lee.

Mrs. Charles James President Of Band Boosters

Tannersville—At the last meeting of the Band Boosters Assn. of Pocono Township school, which has now convened until the Fall, the following officers were elected:

Mrs. Charles James, pres., Frank Mooney, vice-pres., Mrs. Gilbert Scharf, sec.; Stanley Hartman, treas.

The group was entertained by the Junior Band. The prize, a decorated cake, was donated by Mrs. Donald Hartman and won by her. She presented it to Carmen Cavuto, band director. Cavuto suggested a picnic on the school grounds for members of the school bands and the school chorus, which cooperated with the band in their concert. This picnic will be held during the first week in June, definite date soon to be announced. The Band Boosters Assn. will defray the expenses.

Smith Class Meeting Held

Mrs. Robert B. Smith's Sunday School class of St. John's Lutheran Church honored Mrs. Elmina Schmidt, who had served as substitute teacher, with a gift on her birthday at the meeting held in the church social rooms on Tuesday night. They presented her with a gift from the class.

Also honored by the class on their birthdays were Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlsen and Mrs. Alice Shupp.

Mrs. Smith presented the lesson, and a program was given. Mrs. Smith read two poems written by Mrs. Ruth Marshall; and Mrs. Schmidt gave a reading, "Sympathy is Sharing." Mrs. Julia Mansbach read a poem "Just for a Minute" and Mrs. Lucy Ellenberger read the fun minutes.

There were 24 members present. In the games which followed the meeting prizes were won by Miss Anna Fenne and Mrs. Emma Schroeder.

Refreshments were served by the following committee: Mrs. Deward Shook, Mrs. Anna Post, Mrs. Julia Mansbach, Mrs. David Brands, Mrs. Nellie Rustine, and Mrs. Alice Rinker.

Evans-Weidman Wedding At Stone Church

Bangor—Miss Doris June Weidman, daughter of Mrs. Floyd Weidman and the late Mr. Weidman of Mount Bethel ED-1, and George Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Evans of Hamburg, Pa. were married on May 23 at 2:30 in Christ Evangelical Reformed Church, Stone Church by Rev. J. O. Reagle.

Given in marriage by her brother, Eugene Weidman, the bride wore white net trimmed with French lace. Her finger-tip veil was trimmed with lace, and fell from a beaded crown. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and white roses and pink snapdragons.

Miss Helen Weidman was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a pink gown with pink picture hat. John Polishkiewicz of Bangor was best man. Mrs. Stanley Pensyl was organist.

After a reception at the Village Barn, Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Evans left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. The bride is employed by the Mount Bethel Mfg. Co., and Mr. Evans by C. B. Cramer, contractor and builder.

Miss Kathryn Ann Hickey

Scholarship Awarded To Miss Hickey

Miss Kathryn Ann Hickey, daughter of Mrs. A. M. Hickey of 725 Scott St., has been awarded a full tuition scholarship at Marywood College, Scranton, Pa.

Miss Hickey, a freshman at the college, was selected by the faculty to take a highly competitive examination which was conducted at the college during the early part of March.

Miss Hickey is very active in extra-curricular affairs at the college. She is cellist in the Marywood College Orchestra and is a talented pianist and organist.

Grange Serves 120 Suppers

Tannersville—Pocono Grange 1415 met on Friday night, May 22. It was decided to pay off a substantial amount on the remaining roof indebtedness.

Mrs. Irene Hartman, Mt. Pocono, and Mrs. Sallie Henry were reported on the sick list. Members and friends of the Grange are making up sunshine baskets for these two members and Mrs. Elsie Bessecker was appointed to receive gifts for it as soon as possible.

The Grange penny supper held at the firehouse on Saturday night was a decided success, there having been about 120 suppers served. There was a quantity of food left over which was sold to augment the receipts from this supper.

Family Marks First Birthday

William Ralph Schroeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schroeder, celebrated his first birthday on May 26. He was born at the General Hospital in East Stroudsburg. His mother is the former Angeline Pansy, daughter of Mrs. Antoinette Pansy and the late Ralph Pansy.

The Schroeders have two other children, Joan Marie and Bonnie Lou.

A family party was held in honor of William, with cake and ice cream.

Drennan To Speak At PTA Meeting

Mount Pocono—The final meeting of the current school year of the Mount Pocono PTA will be held in the school Thursday, May 28, at 8:30 p. m.

Harry J. Drennan, secretary of the Monroe County School Board, will discuss the "Unification of the School Systems" as proposed by the State Commission. It is very important that this matter be understood not only by members of the PTA but by all taxpayers of the area who support school systems, the committee said. Visitors are welcome to join with members in studying the plan.

Election of officers for the coming year will be one of the most important matters on the agenda. There will be a report on the Playground Project, in which the Rotary has been cooperating; the Brownies' plans for summer activities, and a discussion of a proposed cage sale to augment PTA funds during the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. William Devine of "Farm on the Hill" will act as co-chairmen of a picnic barbecue party to be held at Naomi Lake during June.

Refreshments and a social hour will follow the meeting. The organization hopes that a hundred per cent membership can be reported to end its first six-months of operation.

Marine Corps Aux. Meets Thursday

The Monroe County Marine Corps Auxiliary will meet on Thursday, May 28, at 8 p. m. in the VFW Home.

Wives, mothers and sisters of Marines are invited to join the group. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Charles Staples, 3385-J-1, and transportation may be arranged.

How about a pretty plastic apron, free, with no strings attached, except the ones that will secure it around your waist? If you're interested, come into our shoe department either today or tomorrow, and try on a pair of Summerettes by Ball Band.

Summerettes are the play shoes beloved of Hollywood stars and glamour girls the country over, because they are colorful, comfortable, and cool. The perfect shoe for leisure wear in town or country, they're fashioned for fun, and their corking-fine soles will make walking a pleasure on either board walk, sidewalk, or beach. They're a sporting, supporting shoe for the woman who takes style in her stride.

We'll give an apron to you simply for trying a pair . . . and we won't try to sell you a thing. Ball Bands sell themselves. Summer 7-Ettes wonderful!

St. Matthew's School Band To Present Concert Tonight

St. Matthew's School's third annual band concert will be held tonight at 8 in the school auditorium.

Conductor of the band is Walter Lane. The concert is presented by the school's music department under direction of sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Opening selection on the program will be Loder's "A Military Band" followed by the "Paele Grandeur Overture" by Olivadoti.

Bruce Veechnick and Richard Wolslayer will play a trumpet duet, "The Pals" as the third selection. Other numbers include the following:

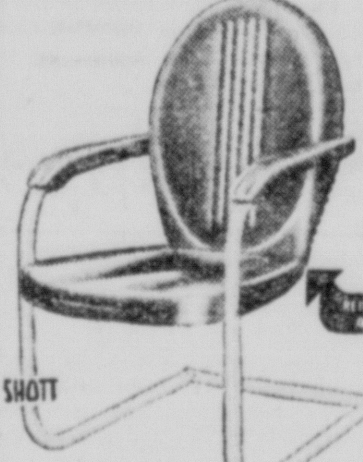

"The Loveliest Night of the Year" arranged by Schoenfeld; "Hoop-Dee-Do" by Frank Loesser and Milton DeLugg; the "Mabel" polka by Hartley with a trombone solo by Donald Hickey; "Ballet Egyptian" by Luigi-Olivadoti.

"Gaiety Polka" by Hartley with a baritone solo by Bernard Oppel; "Three Bears," a comedy sketch by Long, with Dennis McAuliffe serving as narrator and "Fete Triumphant," a concert march, by Olivadoti.

Accompanists will be Lois Detrick, Margaret Hermanns and Francis McGarry.

If Arizona continues its present rate of population increase, the number of people in the state will double in 15 years.

Chestnuthill Captures Monroe County Baseball Crown, 6-4

Four Runs In Fourth Sinks TTTHS

Tannersville — Chestnuthill battled back from the brink of defeat here yesterday to capture the 1953 Monroe County League baseball championship with a 6-4 victory over Tobyhanna Township High School, in a special play-off held on the Pocono High field.

The playoff was made necessary when both teams completed the regular season with identical records of four wins and one loss. Tobyhanna blined Bob Burkett for four runs in the first inning, as Norman Costanzo tripled on the first pitch of the ball game and Bob Fischer clipped in with a double, for the big blows of a wild scoring inning.

Burkett found himself in the second frame and the TTTHS attack was stalled for the remainder of the contest.

Meanwhile Burkett and his supporting cast began to fight its way back, run by run.

Chestnuthill picked up one marker in the second, another in the third and then won the game with a four-run spurge in the fourth frame.

Wildness — Merlin "Abe" Mays dug his own grave in the wild fourth, as he issued two bases on balls and hit two batters with pitches. A very scratchy hit to shortstop and an error by first baseman John Waltz provided the momentum needed for four runs.

Mays pitched winning baseball except in the fourth, as he allowed only five hits, walked four and retired seven on strikes.

Burkett allowed five hits, walked one and retired six on strikes. Chestnuthill committed three errors and TTTHS two.

TTTHS was attempting to land its second straight title, having won the crown last year.

Dick Burkett and Costanzo paced their respective clubs in the hit column, each driving out a pair of safeties.

Phillies Split With Pirates

Pittsburgh (AP) — Robin Roberts hurled a neat six hitter as the Philadelphia Phillies broke a five-game losing streak by walloping the Pittsburgh Pirates, 14-2, in the first game of a two-night double-header last night but the Pirates came roaring back with a six-run eighth inning rally to take the second contest, 8-5.

Dozen

The victory, in which the Phils reeled up 13 hits, was Roberts' 12th straight over the Pirates and his seventh against three losses. Karl Drews was charged with the second game loss, the win going to relief hurler Elroy Face.

Giants Collapse On Dark's Error

Brooklyn, (AP) — Alvin Dark's error on a routine grounder with two out in the ninth inning gave Roy Campanella a chance to bat and the Brooklyn catcher clouted a three-run homer to give the Dodgers a "gift" 5-3 victory over the New York Giants last night.

Heart Breaker

It was a heart-breaking defeat for Jim Hearn, who had pitched out of several jams in the late innings.

Eagles, IAM Decision Foes In County Softball League

Jack's Market extended the Eagles to the very limit in the Monroe County Softball League last night, before the Eagles were able to score seven runs in the last two innings and win by a 7-3 count on the East Stroudsburg Junior High School field.

IAM, battling the Eagles tooth and nail for first place, rode over Tucker's Chevrolet, 9-0, in another league contest played last night at Stroudsburg Playground.

Pocono A.C. Plays Host To Martins Creek On East Stroudsburg Playground Diamond

Pocono A. C. will play its first home game since opening day, when Martins Creek tangles with the A. C. contingent at East Stroudsburg Playground today. The game is scheduled to get under way at 6:15 p. m.

Bill "Pump" Metzger, Stroudsburg High School senior, has been nominated by Manager Bill Frear to do the pitching for the home team.

Metzger dropped his only other start, a 5-4 reversal at the hands of Roseta A. A. in 11 innings.

The remainder of the Pocono A. C. lineup will feature Hobart "Hobe" Hutchins in the role of catcher; John "Juice" Armit, first base; Larry Kechner, second base; Frear, shortstop; Jack Newell, third base; Bob Mellman, left field; Harold Freeman, center field; and Bill Shires, right field.

Pocono A. C. opened the present campaign with a 4-0 conquest of Johnsonville and then took the measure of Tatamy. Since that time the Monroe County club has dropped contests to both Roseta and Portland, the latter by a 10-1 count last Sunday.

Today's game in East Stroudsburg is the only contest on the Blue Mountain League agenda.

Pocono A. C. returns to action on Sunday, when the Frearmen tangle with Johnsonville, on the latter's home field.

Johnsonville Scores Upset Over Portland

East Bangor Johnsonville, bluecap of last place in the Blue Mountain League for the past two years, rose up here last night to down Portland, an annual power, 5-2, in the most surprising upset of the infant campaign.

A two-run flurry by Johnsonville in the sixth inning brought the home team from a one-run deficit to a similar advantage.

Nine Errors

Dick Shuster, Stroudsburg High junior, was charged with the loss, but the right handed hurler was plagued by nine errors by his supporting cast.

Johnsonville committed six errors.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Chestnuthill High's baseball team returned to the top of the Monroe County League, a position that it has held quite regularly in recent years, when the charges of Coach Otto "Junior" Mills scored a 6-4 decision over Tobyhanna Township High yesterday, at Tannersville. The Chestnuthill win also broke the domination of TTHS over the remainder of the Monroe County League teams. TTHS was shooting for its second baseball title to go with four straight basketball championships.

The victory enabled Chestnuthill to win its fifth diamond title in the past seven years. It also marked the eighth time that Chestnuthill has won the baseball crown in the Monroe County League since Mills took over the coaching duties at the West End school in 1937. Chestnuthill had to really come off the floor to win yesterday, as TTHS scored four times in the first frame.

Bob Burkett continually has trouble in the opening inning, but once the hard working right hander gets by the first round, he becomes almost unbeatable. Such was the case yesterday as he held TTHS scoreless through the last six innings, while his mates pecked away at Merlin "Abe" Mays for six runs and the victory. Dick Burkett, Chestnuthill catcher, was forced from the game with two strikes on the final batter, when the youthful receiver was struck with a foul ball.

The catcher, twin brother of the pitcher, wasn't injured seriously according to reports reaching this column last night. TTHS scored all its four runs on clean base hits, but Burkett closed the scoring door from the school inning through the seventh and final round. The game began at 3 p. m. instead of an hour earlier as previously announced, due to the fact that Pocono High's school activities necessitated use of the field up to that time. Pocono is to be praised for its generosity in allowing outside school teams to use its field.

Harold Snider, manager of Stroudsburg Speedway, is also a qualified pilot. Speaking of Stroudsburg Speedway brings to mind the fact that there will be absolutely free parking at the half-mile track, located next to the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Airport, this Saturday night, when the Liberty Stock Car Association presents its regular weekly stock car show. Several improvements have also been made at the local track since last Saturday's outstanding stock car show.

Dick Owens, former Stroudsburg High basketball star and a letter winner in the same sport at Susquehanna University, finished fourth in the intramural mile run recently. Dick, a sophomore, is also treasurer of the student council at Susquehanna. The Little League of the Stroudsburgs is scheduled to play its first game on Monday, June 8. Five teams, including one from Barrett, are entered in the circuit this season.

Tom Casey, young catcher who began his professional career with Carbondale, of the now defunct North Atlantic League, was one of the main figures in a player riot during Monday's Schenectady-Williamsport baseball game. Tom tangled with Jim Meyer, Williamsport second baseman, and the two-man fight ignited the fuse between other players of both clubs. According to reports at least five separate fights were going on at the same time during the Eastern League contest.

Hornsby Reported Finished

Milwaukee, GP—The Milwaukee Journal said yesterday that "Cincinnati players have told members of the Milwaukee Braves that 'Rogers Hornsby may not last two more weeks as manager of the Redlegs.'"

Story
The story related that Cincinnati players say Hornsby "has been impossible . . . has fined players unnecessarily, and he lorded it over us."

In Cincinnati, Redleg General Manager Gabriel Paul denied knowledge of either rebellion or a player petition to oust the gruff, outspoken Hornsby.

Nazareth Eliminates Bangor From Playoffs

Blue Eagles Earn Right To Meet Parkland

Pen Argyl—Nazareth High eliminated Bangor from the Lehigh-Northampton League playoff series yesterday, as the charges of Coach Andy Leh scored a 7-3 verdict over the Slaters here at Weona Park.

The twice-postponed contest featured Nazareth in the front running position most of the way, as the Blue Eagles earned the right to clash with Parkland tomorrow, at Coplay, with the championship at stake. Bangor, Nazareth and Parkland finished the regular campaign tied for the number one position.

Blaine Seiple, surprise starter for Bangor, was touched for one run in the first inning, but his mates put him back on an even footing with a single tally in their half of the opening round. Nazareth went ahead to stay with another run in the second and then sent Seiple to the showers with a three-run explosion in the fifth.

Big Inning
Seneca drew a life of Ken Wesler's error, stole second and raced home on Morris Mengle's single. Rissmiller followed with another single, putting men on first and second. Juratsis sacrificed both runners up a notch and both scored when Joe Martocci failed to come up with Meixsell's shot to third.

Rodney Taylor, veteran southpaw, took over for Seiple at this point and shut off the gas. Taylor worked until the seventh, when Bob Egbert came into action to finish the game. Taylor allowed a single run in the sixth and Nazareth scored a clincher in the seventh.

Singles by Joe Yannuzzi, Rodney Miller, Ralph Stenlake and George Dallesandro gave Bangor two markers in the bottom of the seventh, but the rally wasn't large enough to change the tide of battle.

Ward Defeats Stranahan With Money Putt To Enter Fifth Round Of British Amateur Golf

Hoylake, England, GP—Harvie Ward of Atlanta—a brave battler from the home town of the immortal Bobby Jones—sank a lifesaving eight-foot putt yesterday to defeat Frank Stranahan one up in the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf Championship.

The spine-tingling match saw Stranahan fight back to within a whisker of defeating the defending champion, Ward's victory, which put him in the fifth round, was greeted with tremendous applause from a half-frozen, rain-sodden gallery of 3,000.

The same two magnificent amateurs met in the finals of the 1952 tournament, but Ward won that by a far more comfortable margin, six and five.

All square coming down the 18th fairway, both hit superb approach shots. Stranahan was 12 feet from the cup. Ward was eight feet away. Stranahan putted and got down on his knees for a second as his ball came within an inch or two of dropping in.

Excitement
The gallery held its breath as Ward sighted his putt and sank it. The Atlanta boy did a little jig and shouted in a southern drawl "Boy, that did it."

Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., joined Ward in the fifth round of play to give America a top-ranking star in each half of the draw.

In his afternoon round, Campbell blazed around this long, water-logged, wind-racked 7,078-yard Hoylake course for a six and five victory over Bruce Thompson of England.

He shot the front nine of the par 36-37—73 course in 35. That stood as the best of the week until Ward covered the same nine in 33. Five other Americans also advanced through this two round day into the fifth round:

Robert Sweeney of Palm Beach, Fla., Ernest Arend of Deal, N. J., Dale Buettner of Toledo, Harold B. Ridgely of Philadelphia, and Major J. F. Seals, now a resident of New Haven, Conn., but formerly of Charlotte, N. C.

The Yank contingent, however, lost two first-class players in yesterday morning's third round when Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia and Frank Straface of Hempstead, N. Y., were upset.

Cartwright Addresses Kiwanians

J. S. Cartwright, superintendent of Public Schools, Allentown, addressed the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon discussing problems faced today and the effect on tomorrow.

The speaker, former principal of Stroudsburg High School and president of the local club in 1943, was presented by President Parke W. Kunkle.

Speaking on certain tyrannies faced today, Cartwright discussed the problem of freedom of thought and expression which should be supported. Dissenters have their rights, he said, adding we owe much to honest differences.

In his second point the speaker said increased school taxes could kill the goose that lays the golden egg. He placed emphasis on the value of good schools to the ultimate standing of a community.

Free private enterprise, girded by good schools, leads to success, Cartwright declared, and showed that countries with poor school systems couldn't compare with those in which education was on a high level. He declared there is close association between business and good schools.

In his final point, the speaker discussed the impact on man by the tremendous speed at which we are moving. In this connection he brought out many problems faced and declared these could not be solved individually, but must have mass support after careful thought and study.

Mr. Cartwright left Stroudsburg seven years ago to take over the supervision of the schools at Carlisle, leaving there a couple of years ago to assume his present position in Allentown.

President Kunkle told of the improvement of Herbert B. Crane and expectation of being brought home from Lee Hospital, Johnstown, early next week.

The committee which had charge of the fashion show last week was commended for the success achieved. The proceeds go to the club's pledge in the YMCA building fund.

Quite a number of guests were welcomed including Kiwanian Fred Beede, Bloomfield, N. J.; also John D. Raymond, instructor Lafayette College, Easton; Ernest Wood, of department of education, New York University; William Romback, Philadelphia; Clayton Horton, Portland; Jonas May, East Stroudsburg; Jack Baldwin, Earl Groner and Tom Rogers, Stroudsburg.

If present trends continue, California will challenge New York as the most populous state in the United States about 1970.

Loot Valued At $450 Taken In Burglary At Bensley Gas Station, East Stroudsburg

An East Stroudsburg service station was looted of over $450 in merchandise, including guns and ammunition, early yesterday.

Chief of Police Arthur Swink set the time of the burglary of Ray Bensley's station, 128 N. Courtland St. at sometime between 11:30 p. m. Tuesday and 7:15 a. m. yesterday.

According to police, entry was gained by smashing a large window on the E. Broad St. side of the station. A case and a half of canned fruit stacked along the window ledge were strewn outside by the intruders before entering.

Inside the building the robbers took six boxes of 30-30 rifle shells, three boxes of 32-caliber shells, two boxes of 12-gauge shotgun shells, one 20-gauge shotgun, one 30-30 caliber rifle, a money bag containing $30 in small change, 50 cartons of cigarettes, three safety razors, three gasoline tank caps, a large can of pressed ham, 30 boxes of 22-caliber longs and a tool chest, fully equipped.

Chief Swink said Bensley opened the store at 7:15 a. m. and promptly notified Officer James Smith who was on duty. A neighbor reported hearing glass rattle at 2:30 a. m., Chief Swink said, and upon investigation found her view obstructed by foliage on trees outside her home.

After the robbers scooped up all they apparently wanted, they left by a back door, Chief Swink said. Police are continuing the investigation.

Boiler Plant Workers Form Credit Union

Edgar H. Cruso was elected president of the new credit union formed by employees of International Boiler Co., East Stroudsburg.

Other officers named at the organization meeting are John Heeter, vice president; William Metzgar, clerk, and Donald Gage, treasurer. Elected as board of directors are William Repsher and officers.

A supervisory committee consisting of Robroy Kitchen, Milton Butts and Calvin Lockard was appointed. Credit committee members include Pearly Hunt, James Beers and Robert Cruse. Personnel group named includes Heeter, Cruse and Metzgar.

The credit union, open to all International Boiler Co. workers, was designed to provide for thrift promotion through regular savings deposits by eligible members, it was announced. The provision calls for personal loans to members at a reasonable interest rate.

It was announced there are more than 750 credit unions operating in Pennsylvania and over 17,000 in the United States and Canada.

William E. Burrows, field representative for the State Credit Union League, and Edwin Roth, of the Federal Bureau of Credit Unions, conducted the meeting.

Swim Meet To Benefit Civil Defense

Monroe County Civil Defense Zone 3 will benefit from the Fifth Annual Shawnee Invitation Swimming meet to be held at Shawnee Inn and Country Club Sunday afternoon, June 14.

For the first time since the meet was inaugurated spectators, other than guests at the Inn or Country Club members, will have an opportunity to see some of the world's greatest swimmers in competition here.

In order to help the Civil Defense Committee with its work in this area, Fred Waring, president of Shawnee, is permitting the Civil Defense Committee to sell a limited number of tickets to the swimming meet with all of the proceeds going to the local civil defense fund. The sale of tickets by the Civil Defense Committee is limited to 300. They will sell for one dollar each.

Mrs. Frank Dreisbach, Marshalls Creek, is chairman of the committee handling the sale of tickets. Others on the committee are: Mrs. Michael Pascarello, Marshalls Creek; Mrs. Lawton Clapper and Mrs. Roy Lee, Shawnee-on-Delaware; Mrs. Willard Kitchen and Mrs. Clifford Hauser, Delaware Water Gap; Mrs. George Butts and Mrs. Hazel Gage, East Stroudsburg.

The swimming meet will be directed by Charles Roeser, Lansdowne, Pa., manager of the U. S. Men's Olympic team and chairman of the National A. A. U. Men's Swimming Committee. Famous swimming coaches from Philadelphia and York, Pa., Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Md., and Newark, N. J. have been named to select and coach the men's and women's teams that will compete in the meet.

A number of swimmers who competed in Finland last summer with the U. S. Olympic team, and many national and intercollegiate champions will be here to participate in this annual event which has become one of the biggest swimming meets in the nation.

Henryville

Mrs. Paul Barry
Phone 1424-B-4

Those who called on Mrs. Vida Siedler on Monday were Rev. C. F. Spangenberg, Mrs. May White, and Mrs. Howard Gregory.

On Wednesday night Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Bush called on Mrs. Sallie Henry.

Attending Thursday's meeting of the Pocono Union Ladies Aid were Mrs. Martha Henry, Mrs. Vida Siedler, Mrs. Morton Freeland, Mrs. Cora Stettler and the hostess, Mrs. John Transue. The ladies worked on aprons.

The Women's Society of World

Tannersville Playground To Open July 6

Tannersville — Pocono Township School District will sponsor a summer playground this year.

Date for opening the summer season has been set for Monday, July 6. Closing date: Friday, August 14.

School directors decided to open the playground to children of school age only, since only one supervisor will be present. Miss Katherine Wertheimer has been named supervisor.

Transportation for children visiting the grounds must be provided by parents, the board announced. Children may bring their lunch to the playground and eat there.

Announcement of the summer playground season was made this week by Supervising Principal Lawrence L. Wile.

Service of the Paradise charge will meet this Thursday night at the home of Miss Lula Henry.

Thursday night callers at the home of Mrs. Vida Siedler were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, of Ansonia.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Post whose 10th wedding anniversary was on Friday, May 22.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Tucker visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barry.

Sears Store Places First In Contest

Cited as tops among 200 Sears-Roebuck Stores along the Eastern seaboard, employees of the Stroudsburg store shared awards with Henry Kresge, manager, in yesterday's presentation which revolved around the naming of Kresge "Mr. 200" in the chain.

Kresge was recipient of a leather upholstered desk chair inscribed with the award for which he directed some 36 employees in a contest which began March 27 and concluded April 23. Other awards from the Sears chain and from the A.B. Wyckoff Department Store were allocated to all employees for their participation. A bronze plaque also was awarded Kresge.

The citation to Stroudsburg followed the company's announcement that a quota set for the mail order department here had been exceeded by 158 per cent. The sales represented the largest volume of any store in the chain which extends from Maine to Virginia. The quota was set up on a ratio basis, depending on the actual volume under normal conditions.

In receiving the top award Kresge applauded the employees for cooperating, by referring mail order sales, which enabled the Stroudsburg store to win first place.

Cora Bishong, department manager of the catalog sales here was recognized for her promotion, assisted by Mrs. Marjorie Bittner, Mrs. Ethel Dodson and Mrs. Lorraine Anglemeyer. Mrs. Marie Wieder, chairman of the sales contest, also was feted.

Introduced by Joe Webster, of Station WVPO, James Somers, assistant manager, explained to employees and radio listeners the background for the contest and introduced M. Z. Kissileff, sales promotion manager of the Philadelphia mail order department of Sears.

Kissileff presented Karl Rundel, eastern territorial assistant in charge of mail order sales who made the award to Kresge. The chair was unveiled by Miss Bishong and Mrs. Wieder.

Other speakers were E. H. Wyckoff, of Wyckoff's Store, who presented an award and Dallas Hastings, fieldman in charge of the Mid-Atlantic zone of mail order sales for Sears.

HENRY KRESGE, manager of the Stroudsburg Sears-Roebuck Store, watches unveiling of desk chair, his award for directing a mail order sales promotion here which won first prize in the eastern contest among 200 stores. Other participants in the ceremony are M. Z. Kissileff, sales manager, Philadelphia mail order division; Miss Cora Bishong, catalog sales department manager here; Mrs. Marie Wieder, chairman of the local contest; Karl Rundel, eastern territorial assistant in charge of Sears mail order sales; and Dallas Hastings, Sears fieldman in charge of Mid-Atlantic zone catalog sales.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Baker motored to Franklin, N.J. Sunday afternoon to call Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fletcher.

Delbert Davis and three other teachers accompanied the senior class of Stroudsburg High School to Washington, D.C. They will be gone five days.

The Junior Youth Fellowship had 16 persons at their Sunday night supper at Lake Lenape. With their sponsors, Mrs. Elam

Gray and Mrs. Francis Drake, the young people prepared hot dogs and other hot dishes for their guests.

Gap residents who walked out on the island under the new Delaware River bridge Sunday, found that recent rains had made the falls that come from Lake Lenape and emerge below the Kittatinny ledge a thing of foaming beauty. They also commented on the natural conservatory formed along the bank that lines the new road, work between the railroad crossings above and below the depot, where for 150 feet the bank is vivid with many colored wild phlox and the trees festooned with blossoming vines.

John N. Gish Elected Head Of College Alumni Group At 60th Annual Reunion

The sixtieth annual reunion of the alumni of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College attracted 283 former students of the college recently.

First meeting of a new board of directors, set up after the association approved plans to incorporate, resulted in election of these officers:

John N. Gish, East Stroudsburg, president; Attorney Edward L. Williams, Stroudsburg, vice president; Mrs. Joan B. Cramer, secretary; and Dale H. Hoover, treasurer.

High point of the rally of old grads was the five-year reunions of classes starting with 1898. Due to outstanding work of regional vice president of the classes, each was largely represented.

Honors went to the class of 1913 which had 56 present. Dr. Clyde Flory, Sellersville, Pa., was leader of this class. Miss Lydia Bunnell, East Stroudsburg, was an active co-worker, as well as Miss Ruth Austin who came from Los Angeles, Cal., for her class reunion.

Second honors went to class of 1925 with 21 present. Mrs. Agnes Keilman Schlough, Newton, N. J., was leader of the '25 group. Third honors went to the class of 1918 with Miss Sarah Balckor, Wilkes-Barre as leader.

Visits were made to new buildings on the campus before and after luncheon which was served in the college dining room. Classes held their meetings at 2 p.m.

Class of '98 met in the president's residence. Other groups met in Stroud Hall and Shawnee Hall.

John N. Gish, East Stroudsburg, president of the alumni visited each group, offering congratulations on their fine response and thanks for cooperating with the excellent program.

Many graduates saw the teachers defeat Wilkes College 10 to 4 in an afternoon ball game. Tea was served at 4 p.m. in Stroud Hall.

Annual banquet was served in the dining room at 6 p.m. Prof. Corson, head of college, led singing and Dr. Lee Don Warren gave the invocation.

President Gish introduced these honored guests: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cramer, Sen. and Mrs. M. F. Cramer, Mrs. Anna B. Gish, Dr. F. C. Warren, Dr. W. R. Towse, president of trustees, and Mrs. Towse; Dr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Noonan.

The alumni president extended a welcome and urged classes to make preparations for their next five year reunions. Importance of keeping the college informed of changes of names, addresses and deaths was emphasized.

President Gish announced deaths of George B. Kunkle, class of '96 and Arthur L. Holmes who had served the institution 32 years. Compliment was paid to Miss Minnie Bishop, class of 1900. Similar honors were accorded Miss May

Tickets Placed On Sale For Alumni Dinner

Tickets for the East Stroudsburg High School alumni banquet are now on sale at five major points in the area.

Ticket-selling locations are: Cole's Drug Store, Kresge Drug Store, Paul Lloyd's Sporting Goods Store, East Stroudsburg High School office and Mountain Lake House.

The affair will be held Saturday, June 6, beginning at 6:45 p.m. at Mountain Lake House.

All graduates of the borough high school are urged to secure tickets immediately and attend the banquet.

tors and loyal alumni. He noted that education, just as in business, is best advertised by its satisfied customers.

A dance followed the banquet. Tommy Dolin's orchestra, Wilkes-Barre, played for dancing.

SEARCH Monroe County, and you won't find a home that offers a better value. Located in East Stroudsburg you have probably passed it many times, and hoped that some day you could own one like it. Colonial design with center hall. The living room has a fireplace but also ample wall space for a pleasing arrangement of your furniture. The shelf window in the dining room is an unusual feature. Four corner bedrooms on the second floor, and if you want to keep the children out of the living room, any one of these could be turned into a second living room for 100 and the kids. The home is so well built and has been maintained in such fine condition that it is a pleasure to see it. Oil heat, of course, poured concrete walls and hardwood floors throughout. Two-car garage. Just what you can own it at far less than its replacement or insurable value. Why not telephone us now for complete details and inspection.

Bartonsville

Robert Field celebrated a birthday May 18. He fills all available time after school hours running a tractor he bought last fall, both by plowing for himself and for others. John Allegre says his calendar of plowing is too crowded also.

Verdon Frailey on May 16 attended the 63rd annual laymen's conference of the Methodist Church, Philadelphia Conference, in St. Matthew's Methodist Church there. His schedule included a luncheon meeting of the Methodist Board of Temperance.

The Crusader Class of St. John's Lutheran Church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Haviland Heller Wednesday night, May 27, instead of the usual last Friday of the month, because of the holiday weekend. The bulletin board purchased by the class for the church has arrived and will be erected outside as soon as possible.

John Cummings and daughter Joy were in Washington, D. C. recently, where Mrs. Cummings had been for ten days with Judy Anne and Jacqueline. They motored via Red Lion where they visited Mrs. Cummings' father, L. Norman Zarfos. While in Washington the children enjoyed the zoo and had a trip to Sunrise Beach, Md., besides visiting numerous friends.

The Berean class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School entertained the Faithful Workers Class of Christ Lutheran Church, of Hamilton Square, at the Bartonsville Parish Hall, Friday, May 1, at 8 p.m. at a pot luck supper. Hymn singing and humorous readings by Mrs. Elmer Marsh and Mrs. Sam-
